

Year 10 Overview

Medicine goes under the microscope – from Hippocrates' Four Humours to Pasteur's germs, X-rays and MRI scanners, watch centuries of trial, error and brilliant breakthroughs unfold! Rewind to 1066, where Saxon shield-walls crumble at Hastings, Normans build castles to keep control, and the Domesday Book counts every last pig. Then fast-forward to 1920s Germany – a nation crushed by the Treaty of Versailles, rocked by hyperinflation, but clawing its way back to golden years under Stresemann, before it all comes crashing down again.
